

Highway 1 Bomb Scare Defused

A Watsonville parolee was driving the SUV with the bomb-making materials and lingerie, local media reported.

By JENNIFER SQUIRES (Patch Staff) (/users/jennifer-squires)

☐ March 21, 2012 | ☐ (<http://contribute.patch.com/moderation/3784178>)

Share

0 Comments

The bomb team from the Monterey County Sheriff's Office detained a parolee with addresses in Watsonville and Salinas while investigating explosives found in his sport utility vehicle Wednesday, according to

(<http://www.ksbw.com/news/central-california/salinas/Bomb-making-materials-lingerie-found-in-SUV/-/5738906/9654142/-/item/0/-/o3ar3hz/-/index.html>) KSBW Action News 8
(<http://www.ksbw.com/news/central-california/salinas/Bomb-making-materials-lingerie-found-in-SUV/-/5738906/9654142/-/item/0/-/o3ar3hz/-/index.html>).

The incident happened on Molera Road near Highway 1, outside of Castroville, around 10:15 a.m. That's when a passerby notified authorities that a man, later identified as Lawrence William Guzzino, was laying down in the front seat of his Honda CRV, something the witness thought was suspicious, the TV station reported
(<http://www.ksbw.com/news/central-california/salinas/Bomb-making-materials-lingerie-found-in-SUV/-/5738906/9654142/-/item/0/-/o3ar3hz/-/index.html>).

Guzzino, 55, had apparently stopped to nap but is on probation from Fresno County for arson, so deputies were allowed to search his vehicle. The Monterey County Herald reported (http://www.montereyherald.com/breaking/ci_20225478/bomb-squad-called-when-search-turns-up-ammunition) that deputies found rounds of ammunition, propane tanks, sections of pipe and a copy of "The Anarchist Cookbook," which includes instructions on homemade bomb construction.

There also was women's lingerie in the SUV, KSBW reported
(<http://www.ksbw.com/news/central-california/salinas/Molera-Road-near-Castroville-blocked-by-bomb-squad/-/5738906/9654142/-/I9xr1/-/>).

Deputies searched the vehicle with a robot, via X-rays and by hand. No actual bombs were found, the Herald reported (http://www.montereyherald.com/breaking/ci_20225478/bomb-squad-called-when-search-turns-up-ammunition). The incident lasted more than three hours.

Here's more on the scare from the Register-Pajaronian newspaper. (http://www.register-pajaronian.com/v2_news_articles.php?heading=0&page=72&story_id=12202)

Are you Patched in? Get the FREE Patch newsletter each morning. Register here. (<http://watsonville.patch.com/newsletters>)

